

10.31.19 TAP Release

Upgraded KinderSign and KinderSmart devices to the latest version. The major update to KinderSign is that programs will no longer be required to refresh the tablet daily; this will happen automatically. The latest version of the devices will be available in the app stores the following week after the release date.

Added the child's schedule as well as the hours deducted to the Provider's Payment Details screen.

Added a report in KinderConnect showing individual schedule information by child and by program.

Corrected the issue where programs were unable to end date a child's customized schedule.

Corrected the issue where changes made at the global customized schedule level were not filtering down to the child customized schedule level. This resulted in hours being subtracted from weekend attendance.

Corrected the ability of programs to accidentally delete attendance by setting a site setting that limits the number of deletions that a program can delete before pressing the Save button.

Corrected an issue where the School Info section did not properly reflect the appropriate school age of the child as was used in the payment.

Help files in KinderConnect were updated to reflect the current Customized Category and Schedule.

Corrected the Child>Search screen where sponsors were showing that were not associated with the Provider performing the search. Sponsors should only appear in the search results if they were created by the associated provider of the user performing the search.

Corrected the issue where school hours were being removed from weekend attendance when attendance extended past midnight on Friday.

Corrected KinderConnect to show the customized schedule times on the Provider Payment page.

Corrected the misalignment of the search button on the Customized Schedule dropdown menu.
